

AgFunder Overview

Founded in 2013, AgFunder is a global venture capital firm investing in Agrifood Tech startups. What makes AgFunder unique from other venture capital firms is its use of technology and media to drive a global ecosystem and proprietary technology developed in house to help with the investment process.

The AgFunder Fund IV (the “Fund”), like the our previous funds, will focus on Agrifood Tech, and will be a catalyzing agent for transforming the broader food and agriculture system. Our sole focus on this sector differentiates us from all other investment platforms. Because of this focus, we have become a leader and central figure in the emerging agtech and foodtech ecosystem. This provides us with extraordinary deal flow access and allows us to bring enormous value to our portfolio companies as we attract other investors, industry experts, potential customers, strategic partners, and possible acquirers.

- ● 61 investments (including the GROW Impact Accelerator).
- ● Select Co-investors include: 8VC, Andreessen Horowitz, Breakout Ventures, Breakthrough Energy Ventures, Data Collective, Felicis Ventures, Greycroft, Horizons Ventures, IndieBio, S2G, Sequoia, TPG, and True Ventures.
- ● 100,000+ members & subscribers.
- ● Reviewed over 6,000 companies, with over 1,600 reviewed in the last year.
- ● We publish industry-leading annual investor report which attracts over 28,000 downloads for each publication.
- ● AgFunderNews has become the industry leading source for news on investment and innovation in agriculture and food with over 175,000 monthly page views.
- ● A.I. and machine learning driven deal scouting with our knowledge base of 40,000 startups.
- ● Featured in WSJ, NY Times, Financial Times, CNBC, CNN, Bloomberg, The Economist, Australian Financial Review, TechCrunch, Forbes, Fortune, Institutional Investor, TechInAsia, Asian Investor, DealStreetAsia, Agri Investor, Farm Journal, and more.